you always know how to make us laugh. Thank you all for your continuous support and for bringing out the best in all of us!

We would also like to highlight the following students from each grade. Student Willow Mckeithan from class 604 is a model student as she always wears uniform and does her classwork. Willow is generous and is an overall kind person. Zola Small from class 703 is extremely nice and supportive of her peers. Zola brings positivity to the building and is always a pleasure to be around. Student Caedon Baptiste from class 805 is caring and very respectful. Caedon always wears his uniform and sets positive examples for his peers. We commend you all and thank you for being you!

Drama. It happens so frequently during teenage years, that some people have come to accept it as a normal part of teenage life. But when drama involves toxic friendships and spreading rumors, that is anything but normal. For those who are impacted, gossip can be downright painful and almost impossible to ignore- especially if social media is being used to spread it. Typically, with rumors, the person telling the story does not know for certain if it is true or not. As rumors spread from person to person, the information can change and as a result, the information can be exaggerated over time. Gossip and rumors can destroy a person's self-confidence and affect their self-esteem. It can also lead to depression, suicidal thoughts, eating disorders, anxiety and a host of other issues. There are a number of things you can do to cope with being
